Auto Patents Enquiry Opens

ANTI-TRUST ENFORCEMENT LINKED TO OPERATION OF ECONOMIC SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(UP)—
Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold opened an inquiry into automobile patents by the National Economic committee today, asserting that anti-trust enforcement must be used to remove obstacles to full industrial production.

"Anti-trust enforcement," he said,
"must be linked to the successful operation of our economic system. It should not be used blindly to disturb the efficiency of mass production.
Neither should it be used to upset orderly marketing conditions which increase the efficiency of distribution."

Arnold is in charge of the justice department's anti-trust division. His statement ushered the committee into a new phase of its work, specifically investigation of various industries in a two-year study of monopoly, concentration of economic power, and government policies.

He said the automobile industry had been selected as a starting point, together with the glass industry, on which hearings will follow, "not with an intent to single out those industries, but because they illustrate typical situations which are common throughout the industrial field."

C. A. COOPERS OBSERVE 50TH WEDDING DATE

50 PERSONS JOINED WITH HON-ORED COUPLE AT THEIR DINNER

TEN CHILDREN WITH THEM

Celebrated Anniversary Sunday at Their Home South of Cement Plant

"We have lived in Putnam county all our lives, and in only two townships of the county." That was a statement made, with an appearance of complete contentment, Sunday afternoon, by both Mr. and Mrs.
Charles A. Cooper, at their home immediately south of the cement plant. They had been greeting their friends, and had with them their children, all day, it being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The number 50 figured in another way, that day, too, in that was the number of persons who joined with the honored couple in their dinner.

All of their ten children were with them, and some of their 33 grandchildren and possibly one or more of their five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Cooper was Emily Eva Whitehead, daughter of William Whitehead, living at Putnamville.
She was born 67 years ago last October. Mr. Cooper, son of Dan Cooper, also was born a mile and a half south of Putnamville, 72 years ago next February. They were married December 2, 1888, at the bride's home in Putnamville, the ceremony being performed by John Cooper, justice of the peace, distantly related to the bridegroom. There were guests at the wedding, but none of them could attend the golden anniversary of that event, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper have worked as farmer and farmer's wife, all of their married life. They lived in Warren township until the day the corner stone of the present Putnam county court house was laid, in 1904, when they moved as tenants onto David Steeg's farm of 320 acres, near Limeade, living there 13 years, or until it was bought by the cement company, when they moved to the former Henry Secrest farm south of Limeade which they bought and then sold after 4 years, and bought their present farm home. They have 140 acres in their present property.
They paid for the former Secrest farm out of their earnings, and have paid for their present farm in the same manner. "It's all paid for," remarked Mr. Cooper, with pride. He said they had no means in reserve when they were married, and have earned every cent they have had or now have.

They have 10 children living, and two dead. The ten are Mrs. I. da Macy, Danville, Ill.; Mrs. Vernon Shirley, Mrs. Basil Sanford, both of near Greencastle; Mrs. Martha Macy, Pueblo, Colo.; Mrs. Helen Pitts, Alfred Cooper, Estel Cooper, Arthur Cooper, of this vicinity; Hubert Cooper, of Clinton township; Chest Cooper, at home. The two children deceased were Mrs. May Taylor and Sanford Cooper. The ten children joined in a gift of a hand some, comfortable rocking chair to each of their parents, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper are members of the Limeade Methodist church, but have not had the time nor inclination to participate in social or political activities.

INDIANAPOLIS MAN

IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Homer Partlow, of 1309 east 9th street, Indianapolis, was accidentally shot by his son-in-law while hunting a mile north of Morton, Monday forenoon, but was not seriously injured. The two men were hunting rabbits, Mr. Partlow reported, and this charge of shot which hit him was intended by his son-in-law for a rabbit which was running from them.
Shot struck him on various parts of his body, but it was of small size and did not penetrate deeply. Mr.
Partlow came to Greencastle to make a report of the accident, but insisted on going to his home without surgical treatment.

AAUP HELD CONVENTION AT DEPAUW

PROFESSOR COOK OF NORTH-WESTERN REPRESENTED
NATIONAL GROUP

PRESIDENT WILDMAN SPOKE

Voted To Hold 1939 State Meeting At Indiana State Teachers' College

The American Association of University Professors held its first state convention on a secondary college campus Saturday with the DePauw university chapter as host. Professor W. W. Cook of Northwestern university, President Clyde E. Wildman of DePauw university, and Professor J. M. Hughes, also of Northwestern university, were the speakers at the three sessions. Ninety-two representatives of the chapters at Franklin, Hanover, Indiana State Teachers College, Wabash, St. Mary-of-the-Woods, Butler, Indiana, and Purdue were present.

At the morning session, representatives of the smaller colleges took part in a panel discussion on "The Opportunities of the AAUP in Indiana." Professor Hughes paid tribute to Hoosier educational facilities and scholarship, discussed chapter problems, and paved the way for the day's interesting preoccupation with faculty-administration relationships.

President Wildman called upon the professors to join in an attack on autocracy and dictatorship everywhere, from the classroom to national policies. He stressed the responsibilities that academic freedom brings with it and asked his audience to cooperate with administrative officials in fostering efficient and inspirational teaching.

Representing the national organization, Professor Cook brought out its problems in the afternoon session. He read a tentative document, drawn up by committees from the American Association of University Professors and the American Association of Colleges, concerning professor tenure and academic freedom and discussed its values. Finally he added his ideas to the preceding panel discussion on "What Relationship Should We Have with the Teachers' Federation?"

Those present voted to hold the 1939 state meeting with the chapter at Indiana State Teachers' College in Terre Haute.

Professor Herold T. Ross was president of the general committee in charge of the convention and Dr.
Laurel H. Turk was secretary in charge of registration. Others on the committee were Miss Winona Welch, Professor Harry W. Voltmer, and Lloyd L. Messersmith. Professor Earl C. Bowman was chairman of the morning session, and Dr. Lester M. Jones presided at the afternoon session.

Carl Peffley has returned to his home near Russellville after hospital treatment for injuries he received when he fell from a load of hay.

Maria and Louise Casale

If, somewhere in this world, Mrs. Loretta Casale sees this appealing picture of her children, Maria, left, and Louise, right, maybe she'll Louise Parker five weeks ago. The mother disappeared. Neither the children nor Mrs. Casale's husband know why she did. But they want her to come back.

county road materials for the year 1939.

It was expected that Commissioner seriously ill, would make an especial effort to attend the afternoon ses-the contracts.

ditor of the county, Gilbert E. Ogles.
The list of supplies to be purchased

THIRD TERM IDEA MIGHT CAUSE DEBATE

ROOSEVELT PRESENTED BY SEN. GUFFEY, LEADER OF
HIS STATE

WOULD JAR DEMOCRAT PARTY

Expect Him To Beat the "Camouflaged Fascism" of Republican Party

Pennsylvania's unexpected boom to renominate President Roosevelt in 1940 threatened today to involve the new Congress in a third term debate which would jar the Democratic party from top to bottom.

Mr. Roosevelt was put forward to beat the "camouflaged fascism" of the Republican party by Sen. Guffey, D., Pa., a member of the Democratic national committee and now undisputed Democratic leader of his state.
He fired the first big gun in the 1940 campaign with this statement:

"Pennsylvania was, is and will be for President Roosevelt and Pennsylvania's 72 votes at the next Democratic convention will be cast to make him our standard bearer in 1940.

"The 1940 campaign will be the most momentous in the history of the nation. The issue will be the liberal Democracy of Franklin D.
Roosevelt versus the camouflaged fascism of powerful financial and industrial interests masquerading under the colors of the Republican

Some politicians interpreted Guffey's statement as a maneuver to protect his powerful state delegation to nominating convention against raids by "middle-of-the-road" candidates or other Democrats put forward by the conservative wing of the party.

So long as Guffey and his delegates are pledged to Mr. Roosevelt, they remain comparatively safe from other pressure and would be in a position to make the best available bargain if Mr. Roosevelt finally refused to permit his name to go before the convention in June, 1940.

But if Guffey has undertaken to lead a draft-Roosevelt movement, it is believed that congressional opposition will develop to stop him. Many political veterans were convinced last session that bitter third term debate could not long be postponed and that a resolution might be offered in 1939 to express the sentiment of either the House or the Senate in favor of the two term tradition.

The late Sen. Copeland, D., N. Y., during the bruising Supreme Court battle in 1937 offered a constitutional amendment to prevent a president serving more than two terms. Nothing came of that. But in 1928 when the late Sen. Fess, R., O., was leading a draft-Coolidge movement, the Senate adopted by a vote of 56-26 a resolution opposing presidential third terms. The House took similar action during the second administration of President Grant. The Senate's reputation of third terms in 1928 was voted despite President Coolidge's statement during the previous summer:

"I do not choose to run for president in 1928."
"Sen. Guffey is not the leader of the Democratic party," snapped Sen.
King, D., Utah, in reply to the third term proposal. "The American people never have favored a third term and all moves toward such an objective in the past have been abortive. Precedents set on this issue should be followed."

King is among half a dozen conservative Democrats who supported the anti-third term resolution directed at Mr. Coolidge in 1928. The others were Sens. Gerry, R., I., Glass, Va., Harrison, Miss., Smith, S. C., and Tydings, Md. Any of them

Handlers Return To Stock Yards

TEMPORARY AGREEMENT REACHED SUNDAY; CON- TAINS 3 PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The Chicago Live Stock Exchange resumed normal operations today under terms of a temporary agreement reached yesterday by yard officials and striking handlers affiliated with the Congress for Industrial Organizations. The strike had paralyzed the exchange since Nov. 21.

Cattle, sheep and hogs from farms within a 100-mile radius of Chicago began moving into yards last night after the strikers, numbering about 250, voted almost unanimously to return to work. Leaders of the union, The Live Stock Handlers' Local 537, immediately sent a skeleton force of men to the pens to feed and water the stock. The remainder returned to work early today.

The agreement, put in writing by the Union Stock Yards and Transit company after meeting with union leaders under supervision of federal and city conciliators, contained three provisions:

The company agreed to recognize the union as exclusive bargaining agents for the 600 workers in the yards; the company will continue negotiations on hours, wages and working conditions; and the company will put the agreements made in negotiations in writing.

The strikers voted to reserve the right to strike again unless a contract is signed within 10 days but arbitrators believed they would have little difficulty in obtaining a reasonable extension if negotiators are unable to draw up a contract in that time.

Workers Return To Jobs Today

GENERAL MOTORS OFFICIALS SETTLED GRIEVANCES IN CONFERENCES

DETROIT, Dec. 5 (UP)—Workers in the Fisher Body Corporation in Flint went back to their jobs today.

They had been on strike since Friday. Last night officials of General Motors settled their grievances in conferences with officials of the United Automobile Workers Union.

The strike, if it had continued, would have forced the huge Buick plant in Flint to shut down, throwing 10,000 men out of work. Buick has reached the peak of production, and the plant had enough bodies to last only a few days.

Terms of the settlement were not made public immediately. The announcement was left up to Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers Union, which is a congress for industrial organization affiliate.

LOCAL CHEVROLET DEALER HONORED BY ZONE GROUP

W. A. Steele, president of Greencastle Motors Inc., today received notice that he had been chosen one of the ten directors of the Planning Association Inc., an organization of the 175 Chevrolet dealers in the Indianapolis Zone, for the year of 1939.

The purpose of the unit of which Mr. Steele is a director is to plan and carry out a definite program for the best interests of the dealers in the entire zone during the ensuing year. The objectives of each particular phase of the year's program will be entirely different, but each undertaking will be built around them of bettering the individual dealer.

Mr. Steele last year served as secretary of the planning group. The local dealer has been honored on numerous occasions by being elected to important positions in the zone organization.

IN MEMORIAM

James Claude Wain

Again the angel of death has been among us, and opening with gentle hand the door of the home of our friend and neighbor, James Claude Wain, called him to his eternal reward. Though we miss him and are grieved over his passing, we are comforted with thoughts of that wonderful city not made with hands, prepared for the faithful, eternal in the heavens.

On Monday, Nov. 28, 1938, at about 5 o'clock in the evening, the spirit of Claude Wain took its flight to realms above. He had not been well for quite some time, but only critically ill for about three days.

He was the son of Joseph and Alice Wain—born May 26, 1880. He was married to Miss Eva E. Gowin on Sept. 1, 1901. After a few years of happiness together, she was suddenly stricken, being ill but about six hours and died in the evening of March 14, 1916. His father died Jan. 16, 1883 when Claude was but 2 years of age. Also a brother died March 14, 1895. He and his aged mother have lived together on their farm in Floyd township since the death of his wife. He was sincerely devoted to his mother. His every thought was for her. When he realized the end was near, spoke of it, and told her he was willing and ready to go.

He was a good clean man, a sympathetic neighbor and friend. He united with the Wesley Chapel church during his boyhood days. Besides the mother he leaves an aunt, Mrs. Rosa Evans—a cousin, Oscar Evans—three brothers-in-law—and one sister-in-law, Lota Robinson whom he and his wife helped to raise from childhood.

Thus ends the days of Claude Wain whose span of life numbers just 58 years, 6 months, and 2 days.

There is a realm where the rainbow never fades; where the stars will be spread out before us like islands that slumber in the ocean; and where the beautiful things which now pass before us like shadows will stay in our presence forever. It cannot be that earth is man's only abiding place.

"He loved this world and all his friends, Rejoiced in sky and stream And followed to their farthest ends The bypaths of his dream. No task he thought too much to do For those he loved, whose needs he knew."

It is not given us to know Just where they go; Or, is Heaven near or far away No man can say. But there are times we seem to hear Them whispering softly in our ear: "Don't worry. We are very near."

DEPAUW CHAPEL

Dean Louis H. Dirks in Monday chapel continued his hints to the DePauw freshmen concerning questions employers ask, and urged the new students to think about the record they would create for themselves.

"What about his personality?" is a frequent question, said Dean Dirks. He added that the employer wants a man with pleasant bearing so that he will get along with his associates; he wants one with a personality that is in some way memorable and forceful so that he stands out from the crowd.

The employer wants a man who can do things on his own, who does not have to wait to be told what to do. So he asks, "Does he have a mission?" continued the Dean. He wishes to know if the applicant has a sense of humor that will lighten the atmosphere when the going is hard; and, said the Dean, he adds, "Can he laugh at himself?"

Finally the most difficult question completes the list, concluded Dean Dirks. It is "Would you employ this person for this job?" And this answer must come from the student's entire record left at DePauw.

Indiana Meets Corn Challenge

CLAIMED BY IOWA WITH YIELD OF 135.53 BUSHELS PER ACRE

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 5.—The challenge of the world's championship yield of corn recently claimed by Iowa with a yield of 135.53 bushels per acre has been met by Indiana farmers, one of whom, A. C. Brown of Holton, Ripley county, produced 151.6 bushels or more per acre, according to official yields given out today by the Agronomy Department of Purdue University and the Indiana Corn Growers' Association. Mr. Brown won the championship in competition with 1605 Five-Acre Corn Club members from 77 counties, which was the largest number of growers taking part in the history of this project, and so far as records are available represents the largest number ever participating in any other state. The largest number previously taking part was last year when 1160 farmers completed the project.

Brown is the first grower, during the 25 years that the Five-Acre Corn Club has been carried on, to win the championship for a third time, an achievement long sought after by corn growers of the state. In recognition of his unusual achievement Brown will be crowned Five-Acre Corn King at the Agricultural Conference here January 9.

Heilman Second

Ralph Heilman, of Bartholomew county, winner of last year's corn growing championship and veteran judge and exhibitor placed second with 147.3 bushels per acre. Both of these two highest yields were made from the same kind of seed, a top cross hybrid corn known as J. C. W. No. 1. All yields were judged on the basis of No. 3 corn, containing 17.5 per cent moisture as determined by actual moisture tests of each lot harvested.

The closeness of the competition in this contest this year is indicated by the fact that only ten bushels per acre separated first and tenth places or an average of one bushel per acre difference in the first ten places.

Delmar and George Mackwilliams of Russellville spent Sunday with Henry Osborne. Nora Miller spent Thursday with Mrs. Card Summers. Clarence Beck and family and Ted Noll and family spent Sunday with Fred Beck.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Osborne attended the wedding of Mrs. Osborne sister in Indianapolis last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sears entertained a number of relatives and friends on last Thursday.

Daughter Will Like These for Week-End Visits

Anne Shirley

Annabella

Ann Miller

When daughter goes away for the week-end she would like something new and appropriate for youth. Fashion makers offer these suggestions for that week-end visit. Anne Shirley wears a tailored street frock that is appropriate for shopping, teas and a matinee. It is perfect for all daytime occasions in town. The brief bolero jacket is made of black ribbed silk and matches the skirt. The accent for youth for evening is color. Ann Miller has chosen a tulip yellow chiffon for her dancing frock. The skirt is full and is corded and shirred to match the little bodice. Annabella discovered something new in line of sports attire when she hit upon that four-piece ensemble. It is grand for outdoor activities in the country and also is ideal for golfing at southern or California clubs. The jacket is of light beige softly plaided on brown and worn with a warm beige skirt.

as eastern and western Indiana counties.

1442 to Receive Medals

Indiana corn growers broke all previous records this year when 1442 won medals to be awarded by the Indiana Corn Growers' Association for yields of 75 or more bushels per acre. Nine out of ten in the corn club will be awarded medals and the total number of medal winners is much larger than the total number, 1160, taking part last year. Gold medals, for yields of 100 bushels or more per acre will be awarded to 687 growers, located in 70 of the 77 counties of the state. Silver medals, for yields of 85 to 100 bushels per acre, will be awarded to 522 corn growers, and bronze medals will be awarded to 233 growers. The number of medals to be awarded is higher than in any previous year.

The place that hybrids are taking in high corn yields is shown by the fact 14 of the fifteen farmers used hybrid seed or hybrid top crosses in this highest yield group.

Counties Break Records

Wells county led all other counties and broke all previous records, in the number checking up, when 150 growers completed. Miami county followed closely with a total of 124 growers which was also more than had competed in any county in former years. The number per county with 50 or more competing was as follows: Whitley, 63; Tippecanoe, 60; Huntington, 55; Grant, 53, and Delaware, 50.

Miami county broke all past records and led all other counties with the number of gold medals won with a total of 91, followed by Wells county with 44, Madison county, 29, Huntington county, 28, Cass county, 27, and Grant and Tippecanoe counties with 25 each. Wells county led all counties in the total number of medals won with a total of 134 out of 150, but a higher proportion, 122 out of 124 medals were won by growers in Miami county.

Attention, Men! Here's Yule Gift Suggestions

Christmas tree

Postman's mail bag

Joan Bennett

If you are a harassed male and have been wracking your brain about what to give your best girl for Christmas perhaps these suggestions will help you. The postman's mail bag is one of the newest inspirations. It can be swung over the shoulder with a dashing air. It is made of finest alligator, classically tailored with a guarded envelope closing. The Christmas tree would be a present to dazzle your one and only. It also can be used as a centerpiece with a falcon of perfume for each guest. The tree is softly lighted and loaded with falcons of the new perfumes. In a season of glittering costume jewelry, Joan Bennett is wearing some of the loveliest. The plaque rhinestone and jewel bracelet, the adjustable jewel clip brooch and the jewel centre would all make welcome accessories for the loveliest of evening gowns.
